Russia Blames West for Mid East Tension

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko blamed the West today for the tense Middle East situation. He declared Russia "cannot watch impassively over a situation that bears upon its own security."

The Soviet leader struck back vigorously at charges made by Secretary of State Dulles that the Kremlin was endangering peace in the Middle East by sending arms to Arab countries.

Gromyko told the 82-nation General Assembly "The Soviet Union cannot place itself in the position of an impassive observer while the Near and Middle East — an area close to the frontiers of the Soviet Union, is being turned into a permanent hotbed of military conflicts."

He accused the West of inventing charges against the Soviet Union to hide its own intentions to dominate the Middle East.

He placed the blame specifically on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and asserted that "rude political and economic pressure is being exerted" against Syria.

"Lately," he said, "she is being more and more frequently threatened with open military intervention."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Young were bruised considerably. Mr. Young continued on to a meeting in Little Rock. Mrs. Young returned home last night.

The Hope car was demolished.

Business Most Exciting Game in the World

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — You may need a lofty intelligence to get rich on a television quiz show, but you don't have to be a mental giant to succeed in business.
Sweat and boldness are the pay off qualities there. So says Rich Hirschfeld, a one-time immigrant who at 43 has become head of the world's largest camera store.
"Business is the most exciting thing in the world," said Hirschfeld, "and to succeed in it you should live it every hour you're awake. Intelligence is not so important as endless hard work — and daring."
"You must always be on the search for new ideas and be willing to try them when you find them. A man who feels his job is dull or routine is already stale."
"You must take action, then — even if the action turns out to be a mistake. At least by the mistake you have learned something. You must always be willing to take a chance. You must always be daring to keep life exciting."
Hirschfeld is in a position to know. A short, dark, smiling man with a Napoleonic self-confidence and the effervescent temperament of an operatic tenor, he has never let his own life become commonplace.
In 1938 he bade farewell to Nazi Germany and landed here virtually penniless.
"I know so little English I couldn't even buy a stamp," he recalled Hirschfeld, whose accent now would baffle a philologist. "It is a heavy mixture of German, English, Spanish and Portuguese."
Except for a stroke of good luck he might today be a Broadway head waiter. The good luck consisted of the fact that his cousin, a restaurant owner to whom he applied for a job, couldn't give him one.

Governor's Attorneys Stage Walkout at U.S. Injunction Hearing

Hempstead Is Deadlocked on Appraiser Issue

The taxing units of Hempstead county are at the present moment deadlocked over the question whether or not to hire outside appraisers to make a properly survey looking to compliance with the state requirement of a minimum 18% assessment level by August 1, 1958.

Taxing units which fail to measure up to the 18% level will suffer a proportionate loss of state aid after August 1, 1958.

The deadlock over the outside appraisal plan appeared when the taxing units cast their initial vote at a meeting at the courthouse Thursday night. The vote by governments and by schools districts was as follows:

Governments' Vote
For outside appraisers: Hope, Fulton, Oakhaven, Hempstead County and Liberty.

Against outside appraisers: Washington and Blewins.

Not present, and therefore presumed to be against the proposition: McCaskill and Ozon.

Total: Five for the proposal; four against it.

Schools' Vote
For outside appraisers: Hope District, Spring Hill, Columbus.

Against outside appraisers: Guernsey, Washington, Blewins.

Not present, and therefore presumed to be against the proposal: Patmos and Saratoga.

Total: Three for the proposal; five against it.

Grand total of governments and school districts: Eight for the proposal; and nine either voting against it or presumed to be against it.

Additional meetings of the taxing units are expected to be held before the final decision is made.

Doctors Hopeful Toe Will Mend

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Charles (Chuck) Wood Jr., 5, woke in a hospital and exclaimed yesterday: "Look, Mama — I'm growing a new toe!"

He was taken there the day before after running to tell Mrs. Wood: "Mama, I cut my foot."

"I'll put some medicine on your toe," she said soothingly. "No, Mama — it's gone," replied Chuck.

An ambulance took him to a Fort Worth hospital. Then his father drove home found the severed toe and delivered it to the doctors. The sewed it back on nearly two hours after the accident.

Doctors hope it'll heal. They said the toe has color and Chuck can wiggle it.

HD Council Is Battling 'Litterbugs'

The Hempstead County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs are cooperating with the State Home Demonstration Council in carrying out the State Project of "Keep Arkansas Beautiful Where You Live" says Mrs. Glenon Huckabee, president of the Hempstead County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs.

Mrs. Huckabee urges everyone to help keep Arkansas and Hempstead County beautiful where you live. Don't be a Litterbug. Tons of litter and debris deface our countryside — marring the natural beauty. More than 50 million tax dollars are spent each year just to remove litter from primary highways alone, not to mention additional millions spent to clean up towns, cities, parks and other public areas.

It is estimated that 750 to 1000 people are killed each year as a result of cars striking or swerving to avoid objects thrown on highways. Litter is a fire hazard. Tons of rubbish caused 18,500 fires last year in one midwest city alone. It is a menace to health.

Most people have felt no personal responsibility for the appearance of our streets, highways, parks, etc. They have no feeling of guilt when tossing trash on the roadsides. They simply have not realized the staggering amount of litter left and the costly effort required to remove it.

The Hempstead County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs are asking everyone to help in this project. Mrs. Lorraine B. Wylie, Home Demonstration Agent, offers these suggestions as to what you can do: (1) Carry a litter sack in your car. (2) Dispose of your trash at home or in a proper receptacle wherever you are. (3) Urge your community officials to provide sufficient litter receptacles — conveniently placed. (4) Set a good example for children — habits are formed early. (5) Ask your friends to join the fight against litter.

On Monday, September 23rd, preceding the Third District Livestock Show parade, the Hempstead County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs will be giving out Littersacks to the people attending the parade. The Home Demonstration Club members would like the cooperation of everyone in the use of the Littersacks in helping keep the streets and highways cleared of litter — kleenex, paper cups, candy wrappers, etc. Just put your litter in the Littersack and then dispose of the sack after you return home.

Fall Program Planned by HD Women

A series of Home Demonstration Club leader training meetings have been held during the past week in preparation of the fall program of work, according to Mrs. Lorraine B. Wylie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Mrs. Juanita Johnson, Extension Home Furnishings Specialist, Little Rock, gave a demonstration on making Home Accessories from materials usually thrown away. Mrs. Johnson showed how to make a desk set, including a letter holder and pen and pencil holder, bulldozer place mats from discarded hosiery, and window shades.

Leaders attending were Mrs. Virgil Huckabee, Mrs. C. J. Barnes, Mrs. Nath Rider, Mrs. H. H. Higginson, Mrs. E. V. Juris, Mrs. Joe England, Mrs. E. H. Byers, Mrs. Roy Burke, Mrs. Wayward Burke, Mrs. J. E. Delaney and Mrs. Hugh Gilbert.

Miss Blanche Randolph, Extension Nutritionist, Little Rock, gave a demonstration on Oven Meals. Miss Randolph used for her meal Swedish Meat Rings, Creamed Peas, Stuffed Baked Peppers and Apple Scallop. Each leader present helped prepare the dishes.

Leaders present were Mrs. George Walden, Mrs. Mary Beasley, Mrs. Floyd Pharris, Mrs. Orle Byers, Mrs. LaMar Williams, Mrs. A. K. McGrew and Mrs. Hugh Gilbert.

These leaders will repeat the demonstrations at their respective clubs during October and November.

Telephone Installers End Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — A four-day strike of 23,800 telephone equipment installers ended with an agreement on a new contract today.

One top union official said many of the returning workers were dissatisfied with the agreement. He predicted they would vote to reject it.

The installers have one month in which to ratify the new contract.

The installers are members of the Communications Workers of America and employees of Western Electric Co., manufacturing arm of the American Telephone Telegraph Co.

Pickets were withdrawn and back-to-work orders were issued to workers in 44 states and the District of Columbia soon after the agreement was reached.

John Finnegan, president of CWA Local 1190, which takes in the New York City area, predicted that members would reject the new contract. He said reports from various parts of the country indicated installers were as dissatisfied with the contract as members of his local.

Huge Missile Fired by AF in Florida

MISSILE CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — A big, gleaming, cigar-shaped missile — believed to be the Air Force Thor — was blasted into the sky from the missile test center at 9:25 a. m. today.

The missile rose straight up for perhaps 15 or 20 miles, then curved to the eastward and kept climbing on an arc.

Rising with a flaming tail, the missile discharged white smoke at high altitude like a skyrocketing plane. Then as it turned on a more curving course, it left a streak of gray.

Declare They Don't Recognize Jurisdiction

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Attorneys for Gov. Orval Faubus suddenly and dramatically walked out on the injunction hearing against the governor today after declaring they do not recognize the jurisdiction of the U. S. District Court.

William J. Smith, Faubus' personal attorney, said, "As far as we are concerned, we're through."

With that Smith and the governor's other attorneys, Tom Harper and Kay Matthews, left the courtroom and entered an elevator.

The hearing continued. Davies called for witnesses to be summoned.

By RELMAN MORIN
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies overruled a motion to disqualify himself today in the hearing for a preliminary injunction against Gov. Orval E. Faubus, and testimony began in the history-making lawsuit.

Faubus, who had asked the judge to step down because of alleged bias and prejudice was not in court as the proceedings began. Davies said the Faubus motion was "not legally sufficient" and not timely.

These were the two principal arguments brought against the motion by government attorneys. Against Faubus' motion, spoke for 18 minutes. Kay Matthews, one of the three attorneys representing the governor, spoke for seven minutes. In response, Matthews challenged the government's right to file a counter-motion to strike down the claim that Davies was biased and prejudiced.

Their walkout came immediately after U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies rejected their motion to disqualify the government's petition for injunctions and commanding Faubus to stop interfering with the integration of Little Rock Central High School.

William J. Smith, Faubus' personal attorney, said "As far as we are concerned, we're through."

With that Smith and the governor's other attorneys, Tom Harper and Kay Matthews left the courtroom and entered an elevator.

The hearing continued. Judge Davies called for witnesses to be summoned.

The attorneys' departure came fairly early in the historic lawsuit in which the government is seeking orders to prevent Faubus from interfering further with integration at Little Rock Central High School here.

Immediately at issue is the US petition for a temporary injunction in the situation in which National Guardsmen have prevented Negro students from entering the school. The government also is asking a permanent injunction.

Before leaving Harper asked to make a statement for the record. He said "since the respondents (the governor and National Guard commander) do not an cannot conceit that the governor may be questioned obviously they can proceed no further in this cause. "This is not to say that the re-

Harper said "our position is in Gov. Faubus and his military officers must be firm, unequivocally and unalterably that the governor of the state of Arkansas cannot and will not concede that the U.S. government in this court or anywhere else can question his judgment in this court or anywhere else can question his judgment and discretion acting as chief executive officer of the sovereign state of Arkansas in the performance of his duty or question his acts under the constitution and laws of the state."

As the hearing continued U. S. Dist. Atty. Osro Cobb rose and asked that all witnesses be temporarily dismissed except school board President William G. Cooper, Supt. Virgil Blossom, and Central High School principal J.W. Matthews, presumably the first witnesses to be called.

Earlier today Davies had rejected a Faubus petition, calling on the judge to disqualify himself from hearing the case.

Testimony began immediately afterward in the history-making lawsuit, filed by the U. S. government against the governor. The hearing continued for approximately an hour and 10 minutes before Judge Davies called a 35-minute recess.

"Uncle Charlie"

Walter Brennan, three-time Academy Award winner, stars in "God Is My Partner," which opens Sunday at the Saenger Theatre. The distinguished character actor has a different kind of role in this warm-hearted story about a man who found God and put his faith into practice.

Brennan Champ Oscar Winner

Walter Brennan, who stars in Regal Films' "God Is My Partner," opening on Sunday at the Saenger Theatre, holds the distinction of being the only film actor ever to win the Academy Award three times. Recognized as probably the finest character actor in motion pictures today, Brennan has played every type of character conceivable, even acting the part of an old Indian squaw, a role he requested so he could be with his daughter in her first screen part. He has been in hundreds of pictures, so many that he lost count years ago. In "God Is My Partner" he plays his first straight part in years.

Brennan never wanted to be an actor in the first place—he graduated from Rindge Tech, Cambridge, Mass., with an engineering degree—but acting in undergraduate theatricals led him into musical comedy and vaudeville.

Brennan served in the 26th Division in World War I and was badly gassed in France. After the war he bought a pineapple plantation in Guatemala and made enough money to retire. Returning to the States he lost his fortune in the Los Angeles real estate market.

Completely strapped, he sought extra work in the movie studios. A long, lanky, and taciturn Montana cowboy named Gary Cooper became a buddy of the long, lanky, talkative Brennan, and they haunted the casting offices together. They even shared each other's meager fortunes until suddenly—almost simultaneously—fortune smiled on both of them.

Brennan's first real break came with the role of Jenkins in Samuel Goldwyn's "Wedding Night." Critical acclaim followed. In 1936, 1938, and 1940, he won Oscars in "Come and Get It," "Kentucky," and "The Westerner."

In "God Is My Partner" Brennan's generosity to all kinds of people—crooks, bookies, and neurotics—leads him into trouble. But he has a guiding philosophy and in the end he proves that there are greater values than money.

him one. Erich went to work for a new time firm and in a few years his ceaseless industry won him a partnership. Looking around for new worlds to conquer, he decided to export cameras to South America. He went to the late Charles G. Willoughby, an Ohio farm boy who had become the "Lycoph" of "camera how" here, and placed a $30,000 order.

Impressed by his daring, Willoughby invited Hirschfeld into his own firm to head its export division. Erich soon worked it up to a multimillion-dollar annual volume. Two months ago he was elected president of Willoughby's. Its clientele ranges from teenage kids to Emperor Haile Selassie.

Photography now is a $750,000,000 a year industry, and Hirschfeld is confident it will soon hit a billion-dollar annual volume. Four out of five American families own cameras, and the nation's 40 million shutterbugs take an estimated two billion pictures a year.

Expressing a conviction that homicide, wife beating and piracy on the high seas are relatively rare among camera fans, Hirschfeld said, puffing on a Brazilian cigar: "they live longer, sleep more soundly and get along better with their families than most of other people. Clicking that shutter relieves nervous tension and calms a person down."

But to get back to his success recipe: "There is a magic in belief, and most people miss success because in their hearts they don't believe the effort to achieve it is worthwhile to them. They don't find hard work exciting, and they don't like taking chances."

Sunday School Lesson

By WILLIAM E. Gilroy, D. D.

What are the typical hymns or songs that young people in the churches are singing? My own observation recently has been limited, but until a year or two ago I was active in interim pastorates in various churches. I was pleased to note a return to what seemed to be the substantial and vigorous hymns of faith and life in contrast to some former sentimentalisms and popularizations.

In most churches, a common preference seemed to be for the "Crusader's Hymn," "Fight the Good Fight" and songs of martyrdom or marching quality still had much acceptance.

But I have missed some of the hymns that were most familiar in my youth, though I think that one satisfactory thing is that young people seem to be increasingly singing the great hymns of the church, the hymns that are for all as well as for the young.

I think that the song most typical and perhaps most commonly sung in my youth, in the Methodist circle in which I grew up, was "Dare to Be a Daniel." I haven't heard it sung in many years, and it isn't even in the hymnbook that I have most commonly used. Yet I remember how persistently we used to bawl it out at the top of our voices, and I think it left a deep and permanent impression upon our character and actions. I know at least that it did on mine.

Dare to be a Daniel;

Dare to stand alone;

Dare to have a purpose firm;

Dare to make it known.

A commonly expressed criticism of life today is the sort of mass psychology that influences so many lives. It means an unwillingness to be different, when one OUGHT to be different.

On a high level it means following a social pattern which may have little to commend it. On a low level it means being "one of the gang," and has a lot to do with the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Those who dare to be Daniel don't become delinquents. There is, of course, reason for conformity to all that is right and proper. There is no inherent virtue in individuality and nonconformity. It depends upon the quality of the individuality, and what it is to which one refuses to conform.

I once knew a minister who, according to a member of his congregation, used the word "world" in a sermon 45 times, and every time pronounced it "wold." When she asked him why, his reply was that "a man must have some individuality."

That sort of individuality is sheer silliness.

One can be a Daniel without being a snob or a Pharisee. Humility and consideration for others is consistent with strong convictions and firm conduct. The stronger our convictions the greater respect we ought to have for the strong convictions of others.

The Book of Daniel has long been a controversial issue among Biblical scholars, who differ as to its date and authorship, but there can be no question about the strong character, that is its hero, or about what we mean when we say, "Dare to be a Daniel!"

Beginning Monday, September 23, pupils who are to be transferred will go by school bus from Shover Street to Hopewell, and in the afternoon, a bus will pick them up at Hopewell and bring them back to Shover Street. No pupil will be required to walk across town to Hopewell School.

Hope-DeQueen Contest Top Game in the State

Hope's Bobcats journey to DeQueen tonight for a game with the Leopards come 8 o'clock in a contest that is rated the top football game in Arkansas.

Writers have placed the Bobcats still to be tested, in the top of the Class AA standing while the same group figures DeQueen, with two impressive wins, is the class of A Division. Class means little when the two teams meet as the rivalry goes way back.

Hope is rated a little heavier than the Leopards but from end to end the DeQueen team is perhaps more experienced. The Leopards are being told the Bobcats can't be beat. While the Bobcats want to win highly bad and will be trying hard all the way, they can't help but think of the District contest with Smackover this week as being important.

So psychologically DeQueen should have the edge while Hope possibly has the manpower, but not by much margin. All this makes everyone believe the contest tonight will be a hard-fought one which could be decided by any kind of a break.

Hundreds of Bobcat fans, including the school band, will accompany the team.

Meanwhile on the local scene last night:

The Hope Bobkittens romped through North Heights of Texarkana last night in Hammons Stadium to the tune of 21 to 0. Three long runs produced the score in the Kittens opening game of the season.

Ford Ward tallied the first Hope score with a 40 yard scamper in the second period. Tom Matt Hendon ran the extra point and the Bobkittens led 7-0 at half time.

Joe Matt broke loose for 41 yards in the third quarter and Arnett added the point after for 14-0. Ward finished up the massacre with a 77 yard gallop on an end sweep and Hendon added the P. A. T. right through the middle.

Campbell was outstanding on defense for the Kittens. Coaches Beasley and O'Dell stated they were well pleased with the showing.

In the other game played last night, the Fairview "B" team defeated the Hope Junior Varsity 26 to 0. The Ouachita county boys scored on two sustained drives, a pass play and a blocked punt. Coach Don Sevier said that he was satisfied with the boys' showing, because of the extreme weight advantage enjoyed by the Fairview team.

O'Malley was scheduled for an afternoon meeting at City Hall with Mayor Robert Wagner, millionaire Nelson A. Rockefeller and Thomas Goddard, president of the Long Island Rail Road.

They will discuss possible modifications in Rockefeller's offer of financial assistance in helping O'Malley obtain land in downtown Brooklyn for a new ballpark.

It was learned the board after two long executive meetings was strongly opposed to Rockefeller's proposal. City Hall sources said despite Rockefeller's generosity in putting up two million dollars for the land, the city would stand to lose as much as $1/2 million dollars in the transaction.

His Name
Deep Black

Judas, the traitorous, perfidious, faithless Apostle who, under the semblance of friendship, betrayed Christ. How many good, sound, fair appearing persons do you have on your friendship list who are not friends at all but are worthless, deceptive characters... not to be trusted. How many Judases do you know?

What a chance this man had for greatness! What an opportunity for service to a world in urgent need! One of twelve to walk with the Son of God along life's pathway! What would we not give for his opportunity to do and to be! But Judas "blackened out." He failed and wrote his own name in "DEEP BLACK" across the pages of history for all time. He preferred thirty pieces of silver to the fellowship and blessing of Jesus; he failed to appreciate beauty and goodness and gracious companionship with the highest. His "sights" were low... his interests selfish.

Other men counted it an honor to carry a cross for the Master; JUDAS sent Him to Calvary to die in shameful agony. JUDAS might have followed Christ to the end and shared a martyr's death, but he preferred a disgraceful grave in the field of the nameless or shameless dead.

We have but one life to live, and that one life is too precious to be wasted. "What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his life?" What is it to lose? What is it to gain? Jesus was thought to have lost, but in that self-sacrifice He saved a world of dying men. This man Judas gloated over his gain, but generations have wept for him as a lost soul. Are you and I really winning, or are we losing? Truly we have but one life to give... shall we not write it credibly on the pages of history for ourselves and for humanity? Shall we not hold it high for the service of men and for the worship of God? Attend your church; be faithful. Don't be a JUDAS.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we the church should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. You in the church and the church in you form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Raps Excise Tax on Telephone Calls

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark) thinks the federal excise tax on local telephone calls is discriminatory and has urged the Arkansas Independent Telephone Association to help try for repeal of the levy.

Carl Moore of Harrison was elected president to succeed H. R. Wilbourn Jr. of Conway. Other new officers are John Shaffer of Gentry, first vice president, W. L. Bryant of Leachville, second vice president, and J. D. Garrett Jr. of Lewisville, secretary-treasurer.
